

[e1] Intelligence services must urgently be regulated more tightly by parliament;

[e2] this should be clear to everyone after the disclosures of Edward Snowden.

[e3] Granted, those concern primarily the British and American intelligence services,

[e4] but the German services evidently do collaborate with them closely.

[e5] Their tools, data and expertise have been used to keep us under surveillance for a long time.

